

OFFICERS DISCUSS MEXICAN SITUATION

Two Conflicting Proposi- tions Develop at Juarez Conference

REPORT DEATH OF VILLA

Americans State They Are Not Empowered to Discuss With- drawal of Troops

TO MEET TODAY AT EL PASO

EL PASO, Texas, April 29.—Two conflicting propositions developed immediately after the beginning in the Mexican customs house in Juarez late today of the conference to decide the future disposition of the American expeditionary forces in Mexico.

They are understood temporarily to have increased the gravity of the negotiations.

Report Death of Villa

A new factor is believed to have been injected into the conference by the receipt of the reports that Francisco Villa is dead.

The Mexican consul Garcia said Colonel Carlos Carranza had telegraphed him from Cuahuahua that he had been unable to find Villa's body but that he had established beyond dispute that the bandit leader was dead and he hoped to recover the body in a few days. The telegram said all the evidence tended to confirm the death of Villa.

This telegram was understood to have been laid before the conferees but none would confirm or deny it. The initial meeting between the American and Mexican representatives was held behind closed doors in the big, green-tinted room which Francisco Villa used as his council chamber when he dominated northern Mexico and Juarez was his headquarters.

The conference came to an end exactly two hours after it was begun. Another meeting will be held tomorrow, this time in El Paso.

Learn Two Things at Conference
Generals Hugh L. Scott and Frederick Funston represented the United States. The Mexican conferees were General Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war and General Jacinto Trevino, military commander of the northeast district of Mexico. The progress of the negotiations was not divulged, but from an authoritative source two things were learned:

First, that the Mexican representatives reiterated the wish expressed in General Carranza's recent note to the Washington government that the American troops should be withdrawn from Mexican soil at an early date.

Second, that they were informed by the American officials that the latter were not empowered to discuss the withdrawal of General Pershing's columns.

It is understood the American representatives told the Mexican officials that if the de facto government insisted on an American withdrawal that the conference would go into a deadlock and the whole matter would divert to a diplomatic discussion between Washington and Mexico City.

Want Plan for Co-Operation
The Mexicans were further informed that the purpose of the present conference so far as the United States is concerned is the development of a specific plan for co-operation of the American and de facto armies in wiping out the bandit groups that have spilled so much blood along the border and have repeatedly taken American life in the interior of Mexico. It is understood that prior to the conference General Obregon, the Mexican minister of war, openly expressed a disinclination to discuss any other subject than withdrawal and that he carried this attitude into the initial meeting.

After the primary issues had been broached, however, he is reported to have carried out the intention he announced shortly after his arrival on Friday of Meeting Generals Scott and Funston "half way" in the negotiations. The attitude of secretiveness maintained by the officials participating in the conference gave rise to all sorts of speculations in El Paso tonight. Mexican officials declared their intention of allowing the Americans to do all the talking. The latter refused all but the most inconsequential information regarding developments.

Definite Disagreement Unlikely
In well informed quarters, however, the opinion was freely expressed that the present negotiations are unlikely to lead to any definite disagreement. It was asserted that the Carranza government could not afford to take any step that would endanger its present peaceful relations with Washington. As far as the United States was concerned, it was argued it has consistently held to a "big brother" policy toward Mexico and had repeatedly pronounced itself against intervention. Under these conditions, it was pointed out, both sides would find it to their advantage.

ISSUES STATEMENT CONCERNING PRACTICE CRUISE FOR CIVILIANS

Cruise Will Begin August 15 Next and Will Last Until September 12.

New York, April 29.—Commander B. K. Crank, U. S. N., in charge of the navy publicity bureau in New York, issued a statement today concerning the naval practice cruise for civilians, which the navy department has authorized. The cruise will begin on Aug. 15 next and will last until Sept. 12. The battleships of the Atlantic reserve fleet will be used to be allotted according to the number of recruits accepted in each naval recruiting district.

The objects of the cruise were given in the statement as follows: "To help equip properly qualified men to act as reserves in time of war or national emergency, by giving them a course of training on warships under naval officers and under naval discipline.

"To foster a patriotic spirit and give to civilians some knowledge of the navy and the naval requirements of the country.

"To interest civilians in naval matters so that by taking future courses in training and by study, many can qualify for acting commissions after taking the necessary examination. All recruits must be American citizens between the ages of 19 and 45 years and must be able to pass a prescribed physical examination. An applicant must be able to demonstrate that he possesses some nautical knowledge or experience or that he has some technical training which would fit him for service in the navy."

SENDS TROOPS TO INVESTIGATE REPORTED CROSSING OF BANDITS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 29.—Major O. B. Meyers, Fourteenth Cavalry in command of American troops at Marfa, notified army headquarters here late today that he had sent a strong detachment from Terlingua to Lajitas, Texas to investigate the reported crossing at that point of a band of Villistas.

Lajitas is on the Rio Grande fifteen miles from Terlingua. The truth of the reports that 500 Villa bandits had occupied 20 miles of American territory in the Lajitas district without opposition was denied today by Ranger Captain Fox at Marfa. Army headquarters here places confidence in Captain Fox's statement.

STRIKE OF WORKMEN ON ALASKAN RAILROAD IS DECLARED OFF

SEWARD, Alaska, April 29.—The strike of workmen on the Anchorage division of the United States railroad for higher wages was declared off today. The men will return to work Monday.

The arrival at Anchorage of union men from points along the Matanuska branch who favored acceptance of the scale fixed by the wage arbitration board placed the Anchorage men who had been opposing acceptance in the minority, making settlement of the strike an easy matter. Twelve hundred men were involved in the strike.

With the exception of one fight between a striker and a carpenter last Monday there has been no disorder.

TWO KILLED AND TWO INJURED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

DECATUR, Ill., April 29.—William Meeker, 55 years old, injured in the collision between an automobile and a Wabash limited train at Stonington, Ill., this afternoon is near death in a Taylorville hospital. His recovery is considered impossible.

Harry Jacobs, driver of the car is in a Decatur hospital and it is believed will recover. Meeker's two sons also in the car were dead when picked up.

ROOSEVELT'S DECLARATION IS GREETED WITH STORM OF CHEERS

CHICAGO, April 29.—The declaration by Theodore Roosevelt in his address tonight at the banquet of the Illinois Bar association that the ultimate answer to the question of preparedness in this country must be universal training was greeted with a storm of cheers and applause. A cloud of napkins and menus were thrown into the air while the banqueters shouted their approval.

Colonel Roosevelt was visibly affected by the demonstration and declared that he put heart into him and that he would go out to preach that doctrine with his head up and with increased confidence.

LABOR PARTY ORGANIZED IN MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, April 29.—Representatives of the labor unions are to meet here today to take steps toward forming a Union Labor political party. The delegates come from all sections of the state, and it is claimed that 150,000 men and women are represented.

RECEIVE NO DEFINITE FORECAST OF DECISION

EXPECT SOMETHING DECISIVE FROM BERLIN SOON

Ambassador Gerard Is Received in Audience by Kaiser—Confers With Other German Leaders—Consultations Probably Near a Conclusion.

Washington, April 29.—No definite word forecasting Germany's decision in the submarine controversy had reached Washington tonight and officials apparently were almost as much in the dark regarding the outcome as they were when the American demands were dispatched to Berlin eleven days ago. It was apparent, however, that something decisive was expected without much more delay. Ambassador Gerard's visit to Emperor William at army headquarters was believed to presage an early decision since it was expected that the ambassador would clear up any possible obscurities of the position of the United States.

Secretary Lansing indicated today that the situation remained unchanged in the absence of informative dispatches from Berlin. It was said, however, that a report from Ambassador Gerard regarding his conference with the emperor was momentarily expected. The secretary said that when the report arrived it was doubtful that its contents would be made public until after he had presented it to President Wilson for consideration. Should it come tomorrow the dispatch probably will not be given out until Monday if then.

The German embassy also was without information on the subject. Press dispatches quoting a Berlin newspaper as saying that the German reply which will decide whether diplomatic relations between the two governments shall be severed has been drafted and would be delivered early next week were read with interest. There was no official confirmation of this, however.

Kaiser Receives Gerard

Berlin, April 29.—via London, April 29.—United States Ambassador Gerard was received in audience by Emperor William last night and conferred with other leaders of the empire. No intimation has been given as to when the German reply to the American note will be ready except a hint contained in a Berlin dispatch to the Cologne Gazette, which said:

"The consultation at great headquarters probably are near a conclusion. * * * The visit of the American ambassador was designed to permit him to consult with persons in authority there over the situation. It is assumed that a final decision will be communicated to him there."

The Tageblatt explains this morning that its statement that the basic features of the answer already had been settled was misunderstood. The paper asserts it meant only to say that a draft of the answer had been made but that a decision had not yet been reached. The wording of this morning's statement indicates clearly, however, that there was no misunderstanding on the part of readers but that the Tageblatt made an error yesterday.

There is virtually no comment in the press upon the situation except from the pen of Count Ernest von Reventlow who still appears to believe a breach with the United States is inevitable.

PRESIDENT OF HAITI AND CABINET THREATEN TO RESIGN

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, April 29.—The recent act of Haitian senators and deputies in meeting in defiance of a presidential decree dissolving the senate and in constituting themselves a national assembly, has caused President Dartiguenave and his cabinet to threaten to resign if the deputies and senators insist upon assuming legislative powers. The executive officers will agree only that the legislators perform the task of framing a new constitution in conformity with the American treaty and dissolve after the constitution is adopted.

The American authorities are sustaining the contention of the executives.

CALLS MEETING OF CIRCUIT COURT JUDGES TO CONSIDER DECISION

CHICAGO, April 29.—A meeting of the circuit court judges was called today for Monday noon by Chief Justice Frederick A. Smith, to consider the recent decision of superior Judge Richard S. Tuthill that Bacon and not Shakespeare wrote the literary works generally attributed to the latter. Many of the superior and circuit court judges in private interviews have said that the "dignity and standing" of the judiciary has been brought into a great deal of ridicule by this decision. The decision has caused much comment both in this country and abroad.

POSTPONES ANNOUNCEMENT

Rockford, Ill., April 29.—Failing to receive a report from Dr. J. Allen Haines, Chicago chemist on his examination of the viscera of Lillian Kjelstrom, police magistrate, Norton today postponed until Tuesday the announcement of his decision in the preliminary hearing of Rose Wagner, charged with having caused the girl's death.

GLASGOW.—The Scottish trades unions congress, by a vote of 66 to 46 declared its opposition to compulsory military service. The vote is considered significant as heretofore the Scottish trades unionists have been virtually unanimous against compulsory service.

QUINCY, Ill.—According to a report to be issued early next week by E. W. Rusk, farm adviser of Adams county, states Adams county will produce only 35 percent of a wheat crop and fifty percent alfalfa and clover this year. Mr. Rusk has made a careful survey of the county.

WILL RESORT TO COURTS IN EFFORT TO SECURE INFORMATION

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 29.—Council for the interstate commerce commission announced here today that the federal courts again would be resorted to in an effort to compel officials of the Louisville & Nashville, to divulge information which the commission considers essential to its investigation of the road. The decision to ask the federal courts to intervene was reported after officials and attorneys for the road had refused at a hearing here today to answer questions and to identify documents alleged to be part of the company's official records. Counsel for the roads concurred in the proposal to let the court settle the commission's authority in the matter. Two years ago the commission unsuccessfully carried to the supreme court an effort to compel the road to open up its records and correspondence files to commission examiners. The hearings here adjourned late today to be resumed at Washington Thursday.

GIRL IS KILLED AND FATHER INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

DAVENPORT, Iowa, April 29.—Bessie Schutter, aged six years is dead and her father, Roy Schutter is in St. Luke's hospital with a broken hip and other severe injuries as a result of an automobile accident tonight.

According to reports Schutter's car was racing with another car at the time, and in attempting to pass one another on a roadway a mile east of the city, the driver of the Schutter car lost control and the machine was dashed into a telephone pole. The girl died a few minutes after reaching the hospital.

CONTINUE CLOSING ARGUMENT.

Chicago, April 29.—Closing argument in defense of William Lorimer was continued today, his counsel reviewing more transactions of the various Lorimer enterprises attacked by the state. A number of representatives of Central Christian church in this city will attend and the sessions promise to be of very great interest.

SAY GAS AND ELECTRIC BILLS SHOULD BE SAVED.

The petitioners in the Jacksonville rate case which was heard before the Illinois Utility Commission, by advice of their attorneys, suggest to users of gas and electricity that receipted bills be saved. The light company has given notice of appeal but it is understood that the commission will order the rate effective from April 1st. If the commission rates are upheld the petitioners say that the receipted bills will be of special service in making settlements.

LANSING SPEAKS ON INTERNATIONAL LAW

ADMITS NEW APPLICATIONS MUST BE MET AFTER WAR

Secretary Declares That Their Unchangeable Standard Is a Rock of Salvation—Root Is Re-elected President of Society.

Washington, April 29.—Necessity for the United States to champion and uphold, now and after the European war ends the fundamental principles of international law was the theme of addresses at a banquet tonight, closing the tenth annual meeting of the American society of international law. Robert Lansing, the secretary of state, made the principal address at the banquet which followed a business session when Elihu Root was re-elected its president.

Secretary Lansing, admitting that new applications and modifications of the law of nations must be met after the war, declared that "their unchangeable standard is a rock of salvation."

He asserted that the broad legal principles are "immutable, founded on justice, righteousness and humanity."

Regarding proposed formation of a world court, with international police power, Judge Grey said:

"I do not think there will ever be such a concert of nations that, by armed force, they can coerce a nation to obey the mandates of morality thru international law. But when world wide opinion is formed there will be a force found ample against a recalcitrant nation for violation of international law."

"Preposterous dogma," was how David Jayne Hill, former ambassador to Germany, described the European theory that, by right of might, a nation may do as it pleases. "That theory," said Mr. Hill, "is a rudimentary vestige of departed imperialism."

INDICATES PREPARATION FOR TRAINING OF ARTILLERY UNITS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 29.—Unusual preparations for intensive training of middle west national guard artillery units at Camp Robinson, three and one-half miles east of Sparta, Wis., are indicated by war department inquiries which have been received at the adjutant general's office here concerning the ability of the Illinois National guard to furnish horses for the camp of instruction.

From June 1 to 4 at least 100 horses will be needed at Camp Robinson. From June 5 to June 14 four hundred horses will be used and from June 15 to 24 the guardsmen's training camp will require 350 horses. From June 25 to Aug. 25 the camp will require 150 animals. Incidentally the Illinois National Guard will be unable to furnish any horses suitable for the camp, as it is not deemed advisable to ship fifty artillery horses received from the government early in the winter and which were distributed to the state batteries this week.

BILL PROVIDES FOR FIVE-YEAR FLOOD CONTROL PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, April 29.—A five year improvement and flood control program for the Mississippi and Sacramento rivers is provided for in a bill favorably reported to the house today by the flood control committee. It appropriates $35,000,000 for the Mississippi and $15,000,000 for the Sacramento to cover work during the five year period.

The measure makes no provision for a federal waterways council which a special cabinet committee recommended should be organized to distribute appropriations and to supervise construction work.

In its report the committee estimated that the requirements of the Mississippi would total $3,000,000 annually for reversion and $6,000,000 annually for levee construction.

POLICE CHIEF TO BE TRIED.

Stoneville, N. C., April 29.—Chief of Police J. W. Slaughter, of Draper, N. C., will be tried in May for the murder of Thomas Weaver, a cotton mill worker, who was shot and killed by the police chief while the latter was executing a civil summons. The trial is bound to be a bitter one, for there are many witnesses, who are said to have differing stories as to the circumstances. It is claimed by the chief's friends who were present that the shooting took place after Weaver had lifted a spade as tho to hit the police official.

U. S. OBSERVES HOSPITAL WORK

Washington, April 29.—Three officers of the Medical corps of the United States army will go to Europe next month for the purpose of observing the methods of the British and French armies in matters of acquisition of medical supplies, transportation of the sick and wounded and their treatment in various classes of hospitals.

CONFEREES ON ARMY BILL COME TO A COMPLETE DEADLOCK

Report of Disagreement and Request for Further Instructions is Strongly Intimated.

Washington, April 29.—Conferees of the house and senate after three days deliberation on the army reorganization bill the first of the big preparedness measures have come to a complete deadlock over several important features. It was strongly intimated tonight that they would report a disagreement and ask their respective branches of congress for further instructions.

"Hopelessly apart," on the size of the regular army and the proposals for a volunteer reserve army and a government nitrate plant, was the report that one member of the conference gave out tonight.

The senate conferees are insisting determinedly upon the provision in the senate bill for a regular army of 250,000 men and Representative Kahn, the Republican house conferee is standing with them. Representatives Hay and Dent have been insisting upon the house provision for 140,000 men.

Representative Kahn pointed out to the conferees today that his amendment for an army of 200,000 had been defeated by only a small majority when the house had the bill under consideration. Since that time big army men contend international developments have caused a change of feeling on the part of many representatives. Some administration leaders think the house might now be fought to accept the 250,000 senate proposal should the conferees fail to agree.

FIFTY MILES OF RAILROAD EMBANKMENT IS IMPERILED

LACROSSE, Wis., April 29.—Fifty miles of railroad embankment of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy roads, lying on either side of the Mississippi river is imperiled tonight by a thirty mile gale which is driving the swollen river with tremendous force against the filling. Extra work trains are being sent out to safeguard the right of way both north and south of here.

Situation Encouraging.
Winona, April 29.—Altho a steady rain over the flood district today for this vicinity caused anxiety lest it again cause the Mississippi to rise the situation tonight is encouraging. Reports indicate that thruout this territory there exists no grave danger tonight and that the conditions are improving steadily. The large crews which have been stretched over the Mississippi Valley to protect railway lines and dikes began to relax their vigilance, indicating that the water has lowered sufficiently to make further reinforcement of lines unnecessary.

DEPARTMENT CANNOT INTERFERE

Washington, April 29.—Representative Sabath of Illinois asked the state department today to take some action in the case of Miss Alice Masaryk, formerly a Chicago settlement worker, reported executed by the Austrian government on charges of treason. Mr. Sabath was informed that Miss Masaryk was a foreigner altho her mother is an American and that the department could not interfere.

WAR RISK INSURANCE STIFFENS

New York, April 29.—War risk insurance both in this city and in London stiffened today as the result of a report in financial circles that another German commerce raider had slipped thru the British sea patrol. The raider was reported to have escaped during the recent bombardment of British east coast towns by a German battle cruiser squadron.

H., April 29.—Guy Randall who has been in the custody of the United States marshall here for several weeks charged with having recruited soldiers in Hawaii for service in the armies of the entente allies, was released today after he had been exonerated by the federal grand jury. BRITISH FORCE AT KUT SURRENDERS

Closes Another Phase of British Campaign in Mesopotamia

10,000 LAY DOWN ARMS

Germans Capture Russ Posi- tions South of Narocz Lake and Take 6,560 Prisoners

FIRES BREAK OUT IN DUBLIN

Another phase of the ill-fated British campaign in Mesopotamia has closed with the surrender of General Townshend and the garrison at Kut-el-Amara on the Tigris river about 130 miles below Bagdad. Some 10,000 men in all laid down their arms to the Turks after having destroyed all their guns and munitions.

The British Mesopotamian campaign waged along the Tigris from the Persian gulf northward almost to the gates of Bagdad had as its chief aim the capture of the ancient city. To divert Turkish forces from Gallipoli was another object. When almost at the point of achieving its main object late last year the effort broke down at Ctesiphon, eighteen miles from Bagdad when the Turks, alarmed for the safety of the town of fabled memory rushed up reinforcements, inflicted a defeat upon the British and compelled their retreat 110 miles down the Tigris to Kut-el-Amara, where the Turks soon had them securely bottled up. General Townshend held out for 142 days, his supplies steadily growing lower as he awaited the relief army which, first under General Aylmer and then under General Goringe, battled its way up the Tigris toward him. This army encountered strong positions of the Turks below Kut on both sides of the river and, altho several of these were carried, it has not been able to work much closer to the beleaguered garrison than a score of miles because of the stubborn Turkish resistance and flood conditions on Tigris.

The situation about Verdun has not undergone any change of note. Paris reports the failure of a German attack, pressed with the help of flaming liquids near the Thiaumont farm, east of the Meuse and the checking of a German attempt to assault the French lines west of the Meuse near Hill 304. Berlin announces that French attacks at Dead Man Hill and nearby were repulsed. On the Russian front the Germans have captured Russian positions south of Narocz lake and taken 6,560 prisoners, including 56 officers, among whom were four staff officers, one cannon, 28 machine guns and 10 mine throwers. Russian efforts to reclaim the lost ground were defeated.

Official statements were lacking during the day, Saturday, regarding the situation in Dublin. News dispatches reported the military gaining the ascendancy. Fires of a serious nature have broken out, according to the current telegrams and street fighting is continuing.

Postoffice is Burned Down.

London, April 30.—Field Marshal Viscount French, commander of the home forces, reports that the General Postoffice at Dublin, which has been the principal stronghold of the Sinn Feiners, has been burned down. Connolly, one of the leaders of the rebels is reported to have been killed. Many of the rebels have been taken prisoner and that the revolt in Dublin is on the verge of collapse. In the rest of Ireland, the situation generally is satisfactory.

Expects Suppression Soon.

Dublin, April 29.—Baron Wimeborn, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland expressed to the Associated Press at the vice-regal lodge today the assurance that the "unlucky movement" would be suppressed in the course of a few days. The viceroy was full of praise for the loyalty displayed by the great majority of the Irish people and considered the momentary success gained and the damage done by the rebels as small when viewed in connection with the surprise of the outbreak and the evident preparations made for it.

WILSON MOTORS TO HARPER'S FERRY

Washington, April 29.—President Wilson motored to Harper's Ferry, W. Va., 75 miles away late today and took dinner at an inn overlooking the Potomac and Shenandoah rivers. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, Miss Helen Woodrow Barnes, his cousin, and five secret service men. Ed President and Mrs. Wilson visited the same inn shortly before their marriage, and when their automobile passed thru Harper's Ferry today they were recognized by many people. They returned here late tonight.

The Intercoastal Submarine Engineering company has been organized in Wall street for the purpose of searching for gold and silver coin at various ocean points where it is known that vessels have been sunk. If the same process could be gone thru right there in Wall street and all the fortunes brought to the surface that have been lost thru disastrous speculation, there would be a goodly sum for the communists to apportion to every man, woman and child in the United States.

A young man in a neighboring city made a fruitless attempt at suicide recently for the announced reason that he was out of work and had been unable to secure employment. There must have been some other reason that he tired of life for in these days it is not a difficult thing to get work, and the problem most of the time is the other way. Farmers everywhere are looking for workers, and when it comes to household service the demand far exceeds the supply of helpers. Jacksonville women report that it is nearly impossible to get good help and the question is not so much of efficiency as in getting any help at all.

Another semi-official report has reached El Paso that Villa is dead and absolute proof is expected within the next few days. People generally have had the idea that while the search for Villa was halted so that investigation could be made of his reported death, that the bandit was lying away southward into the interior wilds of Mexico and to safety. But it must be acknowledged that the "needle in a haystack" is an easy proposition by comparison with a search for one man in a wilderness thousands of miles in expanse.

The Cause of the Mexican Trouble.

It has remained for the former secretary of state, Philander Knox, to give to the public some real light upon the relations between this country and Mexico, and incidentally Mr. Knox furnishes a decisive answer to the statement frequently made that President Wilson inherited the Mexican trouble from Mr. Taft. Speaking on this subject, Mr. Knox said, "What Mr. Wilson inherited from Mr. Taft was an outstanding, unanswered diplomatic request to the provisional government at Mexico for definite assurances of the security of American rights and the adjustment of American claims, as a preliminary to consideration of the question of recognition. What Mr. Wilson did was to repudiate the policy of his predecessor in this as in all things and create a situation making the adjustments of American rights impossible." Mr. Knox then goes on to show by dates and records that it was the policy of the Wilson administration not to carry out the Taft policy but the immediate announcement was made that the Huerta government would not be recognized. That this was a mistake subsequent events have proven, and the unprejudiced are all willing to recognize Huerta as the most powerful man that Mexico has produced since the days of Diaz.

Ignoring Predecessors.

The policy which President Wilson followed with reference to Mexico and in a good many other important questions that he has met as president has been to assume that his predecessors were wrong and immediately announce a change of policy. A number of the mistakes of the administration have been due to this very natural tendency. It is true quite often of men elected to office, no matter what party they represent, that they start the discharge of their duties as if everything done in the past had been ill-advised. The same thing sometimes happens in the conduct of business enterprises when a change in management comes. But in both political and business affairs following this "We must change the whole plan" policy very frequently comes the knowledge with experience which goes to show that the predecessors knew something after all. President Wilson has simply followed a natural tendency.

The Ways of the Wealthy.

Mrs. Madeline Astor recently filed in New York an account as guardian of her son, John Jacob Astor, four years old, and disclosed the fact that the yearly allowance of $26,000 made for the boy was nearly $8,000 too small last year. The expenses for the lad it seems have been $76.60 a day. It is just such reports as this that serve to increase the social unrest in this country and to array labor against capital. As a matter of fact, a study of the figures changes the impression somewhat, for the report showed further that one third of the taxes assessed against the Astor mansion and one-third of the $29,000 which it cost to maintain it during the year, were assessed against the child's account.

It is an unfortunate thing that such extravagances go on while part of the world is in want, and it is just as unfortunate when newspapers play up the report in a manner calculated to give a somewhat wrong impression to the casual reader.

POLITICAL POINTERS

California's preferential primary will be held on Tuesday next. One third of the registration in that state is listed as "declined to state party."

The address of Colonel Roosevelt at Chicago Saturday was hailed as his final avowed word on the foreign relations question.

The prohibitionists register another victory on Monday, when the Georgia legislation goes into effect, forbidding not only liquor, but the mere mention of it, in advertisements in newspapers or on billboards.

West Virginia Republicans are holding their convention in Wheeling next Thursday, for the selection of the Big Four for the Chicago convention.

The labor unions are active in forming a political party in Massachusetts. The labor leaders claim the old parties are not over-zealous to put thru social legislation for the benefit of the working class.

The pilgrimage of the suffragists thru the "free" states of the West comes to a formal end on Tuesday next in Salt Lake City.

WHEN THE U. S. AND CANADA AGREED TO DISARM

Pacifists—and others, for that matter—find a lesson in an incident which occurred just ninety-nine years ago yesterday. It was on that date that the United States and Canada agreed to disarm. A memorable document was written by two men sitting in Washington, and it may serve as a model in the peace treaties which certainly eventually must be signed by the European nations. The following lines written by Elbert Hubbard in 1908, are especially significant at the present time:

"The coast line between Canada and the United States, from the St. Lawrence river to Lake Superior, is about 2,000 miles. In the year 1812 there were forty-six forts, big and little, on the United States side, and about the same number frowned at us from Canada.

At Fort Niagara alone there were at one time 6,000 troops. Altogether there were had on the great lakes over a hundred craft devoted to the art of fighting—this in the interest of peace.

After the war of 1812 was ended and peace was declared, both sides got busy, very busy, strengthening the forts and building warships. At Watertown, Connecticut, Erie, Port Huron, Cleveland and Detroit were shipyards where hundreds of men were working night and day building war ships. Not that war was imminent, but the statement of the time said there was nothing like 'preparedness.' In Canada things were much the same, and there were threats that Perry's famous message, 'We have met the enemy and they are ours,' would soon be reversed.

Suddenly, but very quietly, two men in Washington got together and made an agreement. One man was Acting Secretary of State Richard Rush of Philadelphia. The other was Charles Bagot, minister to the United States from England. Rush was of Quaker parentage, and, naturally, was opposed to the business of war.

Bagot had seen enough of fighting to know that it was neither glorious nor amusing. Rush wrote out a memorandum of agreement which he headed 'An Arrangement.' The document is written on one side of a single sheet of paper, and is dated April 8, 1817. Here is a copy:

1. The naval forces henceforth to be maintained upon the great lakes shall be confined to the following vessels on each side:

2. On Lake Ontario one vessel, not to exceed 100 tons burden, carrying not more than twenty-five men and one 18-pound cannon.

3. On the upper lake two vessels of the same burden and armed in a like way.

4. On Lake Champlain one vessel of like size and armament.

5. All other armed vessels to be at once dismantled, and no other vessel of war shall be built or armed among the St. Lawrence river or the great lakes.

This agreement has been religiously kept for ninety-one (now 99) years. Its effect was to stop work at once on the fortifications, and cause disarmament along the coast lakes. So far as we know, the agreement will continue for all time. Both parties are satisfied, and in fact, so naturally has it been accepted, very few people know of its existence.

Fear, greed and vanity are the three things that stand in the way of disarmament. But the thinking people of the world are beginning to see the perpetuity of the race demands the abolition of war."

We answer yes, but we are not going to spend all our money in advertising our business for if we advertised every car we sold it would take all our profits to pay for the advertising.

FAILED TO REPORT AT JAIL

Clint Jackson who was sentenced to thirty days in jail by Judge Thomson has apparently departed for parts unknown. Jackson was to have entered upon his sentence Saturday morning. When he failed to appear Harry Luke, the turnkey, went to his residence. Jackson's wife said that he had left the house with his everyday clothes on and said he was going to the jail. He had not appeared Saturday evening and it is probable that he has taken up his abode in some other city.

Mr. Spooner spoke of the life of Mr. Martis in terms of deep appreciation, referring to a life well spent as the best possible heritage for loved ones and friends. As a text he took Psalm 138:1: "The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me. Thy mercy, O Lord, endureth forever, forsake not the works of Thine own hands." Mrs. Walter Hux and Miss Nelle Day cared for the flowers, among which were several fraternal emblems of especial beauty.

Interment was made in Jackson- ville cemetery. The bearers were Louis Hoffman, David Heimlich, Melvin Armstrong, Jacob Roderheimer, Philip Schultz and T. J. Riley.

LIVING COSTS HIGH IN MEXICO.
Mrs. E. S. Lacer, who is making an extended visit with Mrs. D. R. Browning in this city, is "watchfully waiting" for Mexican developments and follows the newspaper dispatches with special care each day. The reason, as previously mentioned in the Journal, is that Mr. Raber is located at Penjains, Mexico, a city about 1,500 miles south of the bound- ary line between Mexico and the U. S. Two letters have come from Mr. Raber the past week and while they are of a reassuring character in reference to the general conditions pre- vailing at Penjains, the writer men- tions the feeling of unrest and the very high prices which prevail for the necessities of life. This is es- pecially true of flour and meats, and the poor are absolutely unable to purchase except in occasional and very small quantities.

Willard Reaches the Million Mark

On Saturday, April the 8th, the total production of automobile lighting and starting batteries by the Willard Storage Battery Company of Cleveland reached the total of one million. The production in the immense factor of this company has grown by leaps and bounds during the past year since completion of the new plant. The long experience of the Willard Company in manufacturing storage batteries is largely responsible for so many car builders making Willard their choice. That their judgment is good has been strongly evidenced by the year in and year out satisfaction reported by car owners.

This means satisfaction not only in the battery itself, but in the service which is afforded by over 725 Willard Service Stations. To increase this owner satisfaction, the Willard Company orig- inated a unique plan of giving free inspection, once every month to any car owner, regardless of the battery he used. This plan has worked out very successfully and has been followed by a great many other storage battery manufacturers.

COUNTY FEDERATION SETS DATE FOR SECOND ANNUAL MEETING

Thursday, June 8, Selected Saturday at Meeting of Executive Board—Good Reports Are Presented.

The second annual meeting and picnic of the Morgan County Federation of Woman's clubs will be held at Nichols Park, Thursday, June 8, it was decided Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the executive board at the Jacksonville public library. All federated clubs in the county will join. Speakers of note will appear. A bounteous picnic luncheon will add to the social part of the day, giving members opportunity to get better acquainted. Ways in which city and country clubs may co-operate will be touched upon and many other matters of general interest will be brought forth.

Mrs. Ben Lorton, county president, was in the chair. The resignation of Mrs. W. H. Hinrichsen as recording secretary was presented and accepted and the duties of this office were combined with that of corresponding secretary and treasurer, held this year by Miss Clara C. Cobb.

Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson, president of the Woman's club and precinct vice president, reported on various phases of club work in Jacksonville. Mrs. W. H. Anderson reported for the Chapin Household Science club, telling of medical inspection in the Chapin schools under club supervision and expressing the hope that the Chapin club will take out a Woman's club membership. In her report for the Litterberry M. E. Aid society, Mrs. O. G. Dinwiddie, spoke of a fifty dollar contribution to the Passavant hospital campaign fund. Speaking for the Mound Woman's Country club, Mrs. Isaiah Strawn told of a profitable series of programs carried out during the year just past. Mrs. Albert Hopper, in a report from the Sinclair Woman's club, told of enthusiastic work. Mrs. Charles Cully had a good report from the Strawn's Crossing Woman's club. In referring to the Jacksonville club, Mrs. Pierson expressed gratification at the manner in which clubs throughout the county supported the Marie White Longman musical program given a short time since at Illinois Woman's college.

WHERE THE LADIES

WEAR A STAR. There's a city up-to-date, I will mention if you wait, you will find it when you've not traveled far; Jacksonville is 's name, and their rights the ladies claim, and the gentlemen have granted them a star. And the star those ladies merit, for the "boozers" they will ferret till they boost them out of town. Yet with all their grace and beauty they will never shrink a duty, tho they often meet with many a frown. It is due, I am not joking, in the backyards they are poking, and they never leave a stone unturned. When a man is fond of scorching it is soon he will be marching to the goal his zeal has earned. Men will wonder where they are when the ladies show the star, but soon the judge will say: "Do not think that you can hide when the ladies see you ride helter skelter upon the way." Now be ever more alert they've no use for vice and dirt, with evil they are ever more at war, while some people freely talk yet they're careful how they walk, they remember the ladies wear a star.

MAVERICKS

Good bye April, must you go? Don't you know we'll miss you so? What's your hurry? here's your hat. Well, we'll let it go at that.

Writing jokes is a serious business.

Mr. Carranza's government may be stable but there seems to be loose boards in some of the stalls.

There is a good deal of comedy being put on at the court house these days.

Probably for All of Us.

Many people predicted warmer weather after Easter, but we don't see much change. If any difference it is colder to-day with rain. No doubt it will be warm enough for us after while.—Barry Adage.

It seems to be taking some time to identify the dead body of Villa and in the meantime Col. Dodd is still chasing him thru the mountains of Mexico.

Very little sunshine And a lot of rain. Is the thing that gives us Bad rheumatic pains.

Judging from reports it doesn't take much to get up a war scare in Wall street.

After the coming school election it probably will be found that all of the politicians won.

There seems to be a knocker in the Gas company's "booster" scheme.

The one redeeming feature about April, is that it is one day shorter than March.

It is funny, but it is also a fact that the average man will kick his head off when he goes home and dinner is not ready but he thinks nothing of telephoning his wife five minutes before meal time after she has everything ready and telling her he is going to eat down town with a friend.

The Line O Type News says, "Look at This Linotype Way of Acquiring a Big Head Quickly and Without Pain." We never found much pain in acquiring a big head. It was the after effects that caused the pain.

It is fortunate for Mr. Shakespeare that he did not live to see some of the present day performances of his plays.

From the length of time it takes to write the last American note we judge that Emperor William is more adept in action than in words.

Benny Kauf does not seem to have got the "nanny" of very many National league pitchers so far, as the Giants are having hard work to keep from falling off of the bottom.

The mayor of Shelbyville deserves a Carnegie medal. He has got that city out of debt. There won't be much joy in life for the kickers in that place now.

It is probable that lots of people did not go to church last Sunday on account of not having a new Easter suit.

tage to concede a few points in the interest of an ultimate agreement. This agreement it was believed would provide for a joint policing of the bandit-infested territory of Chihuahua with the American army stationed some distance south of the Rio Grande in position to act as buffer against the repetition of bandit attacks on the border.

Conditions to Be Insisted On While the instructions sent by Secretary of War Baker, to Generals Scott and Funston, have been kept secret, it is known that the following general conditions will be insisted upon by the American representatives:

Open and effective co-operation of the Carranza soldiers with the Americans.

Extension of the American lines into Mexico at least as far south as Casas Grandes and probably further.

Relegation to the American military of the duty of policing a northern zone, consisting of the territory directly south of the international boundary.

Policing of the remainder of the territory—a "southern zone"—by the Carranza forces.

Co-operation in the handling of supplies for the American troops.

Granting the use of the Mexican railways to the expeditionary force.

On the acceptance of these conditions, it was believed, Americans would agree not to penetrate further south than a line to be agreed on and that they would consent to withdrawal just as soon as they should receive adequate assurance that the Villa and other bands had been eradicated. For a time today it appeared that the announced intention of both sides of the conference to get "right down to business" was not going to be carried out. The courtesy call made to El Paso by General Obregon and his fellow officials this morning occupied—so much time that rumors spread that

C. power house on the Northern Pacific right of way. During the past few months the company has succeeded in building up a large business particularly among the farmers in this section, and is now bringing to Helena a great deal of money which formerly went to eastern mail houses. In its new quarters the Economy Grocery Co. will have 12,000 feet of floor space, occupying three floors in one warehouse and two in another."

SERIOUS ACCIDENT NARROWLY AVERTED NEAR WAVERLY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vandaveer Jumped in Time to Escape Injury When Engine Struck Automobile.

A serious accident was narrowly averted near Waverly about 10:40 o'clock Saturday morning when the Burlington passenger train which arrives here at 11:30 struck an automobile. The two persons who had been riding in the car, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vandaveer, jumped to safety before the engine struck the automobile. It was an Allen car and it is supposed the driver was either just learning or became excited when he saw the train approaching. There is an electric bell at the crossing and it was ringing plainly. Evidently Mr. Vandaveer killed his engine as he shifted gears in an effort to go up the slight incline and cross the track. As it was, the locomotive struck the automobile and carried it down the track several hundred feet, yet strange to relate the machine was not damaged to a very great extent, and the occupants had plenty of time to jump from the car before the collision came.

At Centenary Church.

A reception for members who have joined Centenary M. E. church during the present conference year was held Friday evening in the parlors of the church. Young people of the Epworth League society were in charge. After a pleasant musical

Japanese Art Exhibit

at Trinity.

The studio teas in combination with the exhibit of Japanese art held during the week at Trinity Guild house, under auspices of the young women of the Altar guild, proved an attraction of no little note.
To persons of artistic tastes was the idea carried out as welcome as it was novel. From the private collectors of Japanese art, Japanese prints of known worth assembled. These were shown in a setting which in every detail suggested life in Old Nippon.

Dancing was enjoyed by the young people the first evening of the exhibit. The young women who served were clad in Japanese attire. Japanese curios were displayed and cherry blossoms and red bud blossoms made the national spirit more real.

The hostesses, ladies of Trinity church, included Mrs. Henry Yates,
Mrs. Albert Cox, Mrs. T. A. Wake,

ASSOCIATED PRESS

CORRESPONDENCE.

London, April—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Lack of geographical knowledge has cost the nations of the world millions of dollars in treaty making, declared Sir Thomas Holdich, the British Army's greatest geographical authority, in a lecture on "Problems in Boundary-Making."

"Lack of exact knowledge," he said, "is the first rock on which boundary treaties split. Where maps did not exist, and where it was out of the question to wait for them to be made, the arbitrators have been forced repeatedly into adopting the worst of expedients, the straight line."

"The disadvantages of the straight line have been illustrated in several instances lately, notably in boundary disputes in Central and Southern Africa. In one case an awkward international complication arose when it was found that a wide tract of valuable land had been erroneously assigned to England and had to be transferred to Belgium. Then there was the adoption of a definite meridian which crossed the Kalahari
Desert, the eastern limit of German Southwest Africa. This expelled years of scientific labor, costing a sum equal to the value of thousands of square miles of useful map-making,
to find out where the meridian really lay."

"Absurd incidents arose over the delimitation of the boundary between the United States and Canada.
One of the main difficulties arose as to what was meant in the treaty by a 'main channel.' Between Vancouver and the mainland there is an archipelago, and among them at least three channels that might be called 'main channels.' Chief among these islands was one called San Juan. In 1859 a pig was shot by an American on San Juan and the American was hailed before a British magistrate and threatened with imprisonment. This put a climax to the dispute. American honor was touched, and troops were landed from both sides. It looked as if the pig incident would lead to war;
but the position was saved by arbitration. The award gave away the whole archipelago to the United States."

Petrograd, April—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—How a machine gun was forced to desert the German army is recounted in the story of the heroism of a 16-year-old Italian volunteer in the Russian army—Constantine Zepolli —whose part as the leading figure in the episode earned one of the two
St. George's crosses he has won.

Overhearing his commander expressing a wish that some one "would silence or capture" a gun which was stationed at a troublesome
proximity to the Russian trenches, Zepolli on his own initiative, crawled on his stomach for a hundred yards, located the position of the gun, returned from the danger zone and conferred with his trench fellows, and crept forth once more, this time dragging a coil of stout rope.
Reaching the gun, he tied one end
around it without being discovered, and again reached his own lines, with the free end of the rope in his clutch.

Presently the Germans were astonished to observe the gun disappearing toward the Russian trenches.
It was successfully dragged from their possession, a number of Germans being killed in an effort to prevent its departure.

Peking, March—Plans have been developed by the ministry of interior for the preservation of historic monuments in various provinces of China.
Local officials will be directed to preserve all stone monuments and Tsing dynasties. Buddhist and Taoist temples alike will be protected, particularly those containing mural paintings by noted artists. The tombs of emperors and of other distinguished persons, as well as temples erected to their memory, will also be protected. At present many of the most famous tombs and temples in China are without guards and open to thieves and vandals.

London, April—To aid in communications between soldiers at the front and their people at home, the government has arranged for a system of week-end letter telegrams, which may be sent by the troops abroad or by their friends at home for about one-fourth the ordinary rate. The week-end rate to Egypt will be six cents a word; to Australia, 18 cents, and to South Africa, 15 cents.

The new arrangement does not apply, however, to the men in France and Belgium, who are only allowed to use the mails.

Berlin, April—The various departments of the Prussian government have issued detailed instructions for the utmost economy in the use of paper in all public offices. Officials are ordered in all possible cases to use small sheets of paper, and also to amend the style of official communications by omitting all unnecessary phraseology.

Sydney, Australia, April—It is estimated that Australia, with a population of 5,000,000 will be paying her soldiers in June at the rate of more than $165,000,000 per annum, plus the cost of maintenance, transport, equipment and waste. This is exclusive of liberal pensions and allowances. The calculation is based on a force of 275,000.

LONDON, April—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—There will be widespread celebration of the Shakespeare tercentenary, notwithstanding that war has interfered with the more ambitious plans outlined by the committee two years ago.

April 23 (equivalent to May 3

under the new style calendar) will be the central date in the celebration.
On that day 300 years ago the great dramatist died at Stratford-on-Avon.
His exact birth date is more obscure,
but there is some ground for believing that he was also born on April 23, although the date may have been anywhere between April 22 and May 4, of the year 1564.

The national Tercentary Committee, under the patronage of the King and Queen, has arranged for Shakespeare services in practically all the churches of the kingdom on April 30,
with the principal service in Westminster Abbey. On Monday, May 1, a meeting will be held in the Mansion House, with an address, it is hoped, by the Prime Minister, and other speeches by various notables celebrating the national memory of the poet.

On May 1, there will be a gala performance of Julius Caesar under Royal Patronage at the Drury Lane
Theatre, with all the great English Shakespearean stars as actors.

May 3 will be celebrated in the schools as Shakespeare Day. On the same day, Professor John W. Mackail of Oxford will deliver the annual Shakespeare lecture at the British Academy, and a national committee will meet to arrange for a permanent memorial of the occasion in behalf of the school children of the nation.
On Friday, the 5th, a pilgrimage takes place to Stratford-on-Avon, where the chief actors of the day will give a performance of scenes from Shakespearean dramas at the Memorial Theatre.

In London, a series of Memorial
Lectures will be given by Sidney
Lee at London University beginning March 14, while a similar course will be given at Gresham College by Professor Foster Watson.

The London Shakespearean League has arranged for the unveiling of a memorial in Curtain Road to mark the site of Shakespeare's Theatre in Shoreditch. Under the same auspices there will be lectures on Shakespeare and a reading of Hamlet by Ben Greet.
Mr. Greet is also to be in charge of the presentation of twenty Shakespeare plays at popular prices in the old Victoria Hall.

The British Empire Shakespeare
Society will strike a commemorative medallion likeness which will go to all parts of the world.

Several of the London boroughs will have celebrations of their own.
Hampstead, for example, will have a series of lectures and readings, under the chairmanship of the mayor.

The National Committee is preparing "A Book of Homage," which will contain tributes to the poet from various corners of the globe.

At Stratford-on-Avon, there will be a fortnight of Shakespearean performances, and a long series of special celebrations, including a procession to Shakespeare's church and a floral decoration of the tomb in the chancel.
Oxford is to have a Tercentenary Exhibition at Bodley's Library, opening on April 24. Manchester has a committee of its own which has arranged an elaborate series of lectures, recitals, performances of songs, prize competitions, and exhibitions. A permanent memorial will be provided at Manchester in the form of a Shakespeare Garden, laid out on lines parallel to that at Stratford-on-Avon.

There will be less important tercentenary performances and observances in practically every city of importance in Great Britain and Ireland. The feature at Dublin will be a gala performance of Henry V.

The little group of enthusiasts who maintain that Bacon really wrote most of the works attributed to Shakespeare, are reported to be preparing a "ceremony of derision", of which, however, no details have been announced.

WASHINGTON, April—The Copyright Office is one of the few government institutions which pays its own way. In 1915 its expenses were $102,580 and fees received were $9,342 more than that amount.

Petrograd, April—An expedition sent out by the Department of Agriculture to study the supply of fur-bearing animals has just returned from an exploration tour covering 7,450 miles of territory along the Yenisei river in Western Siberia. As a result of his investigations the chief of the expedition, M. Solovieff, recommends a prohibition of killing of the sable for an additional three years, the first period of three years, which will end in October 1916, having proven insufficient to replenish the supply. Without such protection, in his opinion the sable will very soon become extinct in Russia.

The expedition suffered extreme hardship and encountered many perils, having set out in the late autumn
when the temperature was 40 to 60 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, without maps, and with only tents for shelter. Several members were lost in crossing streams on rafts. The expedition broke up into parties, and it was estimated in all a total of 150,000 square versts of territory was covered, travelling on skis, with horses, reindeer and on rafts, mapping the route traversed and collecting specimens. Mr. Solovieff made an interesting report on the Karaz tribe of Turkish origin inhabiting
the Sayan mountains in the governments of Yenisei and Irkutsk. This tribe is reduced to 345 men of which 88 are warriors. The explorers witnessed the trial of a man and wife growing out of a domestic row. The warriors acted as judges and decreed that the couple be separated, the woman to receive 80 lashes and the man 60. The evidence appearing to show that the woman was at fault,
M. Solovieff inquired why the man was punished also. The reply was that it was good for him and that unless it was punished by the tribunal, the woman was sure to take her own revenge. A fine of three reindeer was assessed against the pair, the animals being killed and eaten on the spot by the members of the tribe.

THE FRENCH HOME

There the Servant Is Like a Member of the Family.

IMPORTANCE OF THE NURSE.

She is the Real and Rational Ruler of the Turbulent Children Who, as a General Rule, Are Spoiled by Their Too Indulgent Parents.

The French people have not, so far, produced a spiritually servile class. The occupation most dangerous to the soul—that of personal service—has not resulted for the people of France in stunkism on the one hand and superior airs on the other.

There is something in the poise and motion of French working girls, in their fearless eyes and vibrant voices, that suggests a fluid and mobile social structure which deepens the impression of rigidity in the life across the channel and beyond the Rhine. French people of the more favored classes are never heard bemoaning the decay of a "proper" servant class. On the contrary, if you speak to them of the striking contrast between the French proletariat and that of other countries—their so natural and gay, the others so humble or so sullen or both—they instantly expand with pride. "Exact!" they exclaim. "Our brave French people! Just as good as monsieur, as madame, but also no better!"

The status of the French domestic derives in part at least from the weight of responsibility under which she serves. For her mistress is neither a careless housekeeper nor an indifferent mother. It is precisely because the Frenchwoman loves her children so ardently, so romantically, one might say, and because her quick, intelligent grasp of material situations makes her an excellent economist at home that she requires and establishes in the household not a common servant, not a "mother's helper," but a woman of intelligence and character, a woman often young and untied, but with the true ring, who is or soon becomes capable of assuming direct responsibility for the care of the children and the house—a woman who deserves and receives the consideration due to the head of an important department in the management of the family life.

French children are notoriously spoiled. The little monarchs are kept on a pedestal well into the age of moral responsibility. Father, mother, all the older relatives, vie with one another in admiring and indulging them. With this understanding of the term and scope of the child's autocratic reign, one can afford to laugh at turbulent scenes in which he puts to rout every adult in the house except his bonne. At the mere sight of her the little desperado begins to quiet down. He is in the presence of the only person who has, so far, exercised any rational authority over him, the person before whom he feels the beginnings of shame at doing wrong.

The bonne is the most important person in the family group, so far as its material well being is concerned. And morally, spiritually, she is a true member of the family. It is not for nothing that the word "bonne" means "good" as well as "nurse."

It may be that the prevailing good relation between masters and servants in France has a very simple explanation—simple and yet profound. It may be that it springs at bottom from the warm affections of the people. They cannot live without love and sentiment. Better than any other people they know how to keep alive the romance of friendship, of love and even of that inherently bad relation, master and slave.

The French servant who has no family ties—and often the one who has—throws her whole heart and soul into the family life of her master and mistress.

She must love—she must serve—she must be loved. And the French master and mistress understand. Each one idealizes the sentiments of the other. In a word, the romance of the situation grips them all. French literature is crowded with examples of mistress and servant whose intimacy shows no trace of condescension on the one side or of servility on the others.—J. Frances Cooke in New Republic.

Art at Home.

Believe me, if we want art to begin at home, as it must, we must clear our houses of troublesome superfluities that are forever in our way, conventional comforts that are not real comforts and do but make work for servants and doctors. If you want a golden rule that will fit everybody this is it: "Have nothing in your houses that you do not know to be useful or believe to be beautiful."—William Morris.

A Precious Mosaic.

For ages upon ages happiness has been represented as a huge precious stone—impossible to find and which people seek for hopelessly. It is not so. Happiness is a mosaic composed of a thousand little stones, which separately and of themselves have little value, but which united with art form a graceful design.—Mme. de Girardin.

Might Be Worse.

"I'm in debt—heavily in debt," wailed the disconsolate man. "Is that all that's troubling you?" retorted the cheerful stranger. "From the way you're acting I thought somebody owed you money that you couldn't collect."—Detroit Free Press.

On the great clock of time there is but one word—Now.—Old Saying.

Panama, March—In order to relieve the great congestion of freight the Panama Railroad Company has placed an embargo on goods destined for all ports on the west coast of South America south of Callao, Peru.

The closing of the Panama Canal last September caused a vast quantity of freight to be routed for transshipment across the Isthmus with the result that the shipping companies in the west coast have been unable to handle the freight offered.

Because of the vast amount of this business the shipping companies have taken to carrying only the low class of commodities to accumulate across the Isthmus and to be stored at the expense of the Panama Railroad Company on its cars and the wharves at Cristobal and Balboa.

This need for storage room has absorbed many of the railroads company's cars and has greatly hampered the prompt transshipment of freight across the Isthmus.

London, March—Ten thousand square yards of wire mosquito netting bought in the United States has just been forwarded to the British troops operating in Mesopotamia. The making machines and river boats of shallow draught for the Tigris were also included in a recent consignment of war materials sent to the same army.

Tokio, March—About 200 Chinese students from the revolutionary centers of Yunnan province are stranded here on account of lack of funds. Remittances from home having ceased, they are no longer able to meet their tuition fees at Japanese government and private schools. The Chinese legation has refused to guarantee the cost of the students' education.

Bangkok, Siam, April—The final prohibition of public gambling in Siam has been decided upon. The lotteries have already been closed, and the gambling houses will be shut gradually during the next two years.

MAY 27TH. IS ELECTION DATE SET BY TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES

Jacksonville School District is Outlined by Action Taken Saturday—Polling Places Designated.

The trustees of the township, William A. Crawley, C. E. James and Frank Winkler met Saturday and designated the boundaries of the Jacksonville school district. The trustees fixed Saturday, May 27, as the date for holding the election for board of education under the general law. Edward M. Dunlap, treasurer of the trustees, and John M. Butler, attorney, also attended the meeting. After the meeting had been called to order a resolution was adopted reciting the facts that the supreme court had declared the act repealing part of the special charter of the city of Jacksonville valid, and had issued a writ of mandamus directing the trustees to cause the territory taken from the Jacksonville school district No. 117, to be formed and established into a school district under the general law. Based on these facts, the resolution set forth that the territory taken from the Jacksonville school district No. 117 and being all the territory included within the corporate limits and lines of the city of Jacksonville, be formed and established into Jacksonville school district No. 117.

It was further ordered that the clerk of the board shall make and file with the county clerk a copy of the record of the proceeding, showing the school districts therein. And further that the clerk file a list of the tax payers of the school district thus organized. After the adoption of the resolution already outlined a motion was made that the election be held Saturday, May 27, for the purpose of choosing a president and nine members of the board, with the polls open from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m.; and that the clerk give proper notice of the election, together with the several polling places. The clerk of the board was also instructed to provide necessary supplies for the election and to have a number of blank nominating petitions for the use of candidates for the respective offices. The polling places designated by the trustees were as follows:

The Polling Places.

In the First precinct of the First ward—Tobin's store, East Lafayette avenue.

In the Second precinct of the First ward—Eugene Kettering building, North Mauvaisterre street.

In the Third precinct of the First ward—Shepherd store, North main street.

In the Seventh precinct of the Second ward—in the northeast room of the David Prince school building.

In the Eighth precinct of the fourth ward—in Graphic Art building, West Morgan street.

In the Ninth precinct of Fourth ward—at Mrs. S. B. Gray's residence, West College avenue.

In the Fourteenth precinct of Third ward—at Boston's store, East College avenue.

In the Fifteenth precinct of Third ward—at Victor Bergstrom's residence, 630 South Hardin avenue.

In the Sixteenth precinct of Third ward—at Phelps' residence, 1103 South East street.

MISS LILIAN SMITH DEAD AT HOME OF SISTER IN EUREKA

Life of Former Director of Music at School for Blind Is Ended—Sightless but Proficient in Her Work.

Miss Lilian Adele Smith, well known in our city as singer, teacher of voice and director of music at the School for the Blind, died at the home of her sister at Eureka, Ill., April 28.

She was born at Staunton, Ill. At an early age she became totally blind, and was sent to the school in our city, from which she graduated with high honor in the literary department, and special proficiency in piano and voice. Her first vocal teacher was Miss Genevieve Clark, now Mrs. Wilson.

Miss Smith later entered the New England Conservatory at Boston, where she graduated in voice, piano and kindred branches.

She was later a successful teacher at Davenport, Iowa, Chicago and Peoria, Ill. After some years of strenuous work, she made her way to Europe, and studied at Dresden, Paris and London. Her fine mind, musical gifts and pleasing personality invariably won for her a place in the best society wherever she went. She was a faithful member of the Christian church, and consistently lived the religion she professed.

AMERICANISM ON TRIAL SAYS ROOSEVELT

FORMER PRESIDENT ADDRESSES
STATE BAR ASSOCIATION.

Theme of "National Duty and International Ideals" Gave Opportunity for Plea in Favor of Industrial, Social and Military Preparedness—Declares Firmness After First Note to Germany Would Have Saved Innocent Lives.

Chicago, April 29.—Americanism is on trial, with the national character in the balance, Theodore Roosevelt said in a preparedness appeal here tonight to the people living in the territory "between the Alleghenies and the Rockies." The former president, speaking before the Illinois Bar association, discussed "National Duty and International Ideals," alluding to conditions in Mexico and Europe, and urging industrial and social as well as military preparedness.

"I ask you of the west," he said, "to take the lead in the effort for a robust and virile nationalism, fit a bad ready to cope with all possible dangers at home and abroad. * * * I ask for military preparedness as an arm to help the soul of the nation. I ask for it to quicken the national conscience, to help the national discipline. * * * I ask you to prepare so that we may secure peace for ourselves and for others; not the peace of cowardice nor the peace of selfishness, but the peace of righteousness and of justice, the peace of brave men pledged to the service of this mighty democratic republic, and thru that service pledged also to the service of the world at large.

"Our national character is in the balance. Americanism is on trial. If we produce merely the self-seeking, ease-loving, duty-shirking man, whether he be a mere materialist or a mere sentimentalist; if we produce only the Americanism of the grafter and the mollycoddle and the safety-first, get-rich-quick, peace-at-any-price man, we will have produced an American faithful only to the spirit of the Tories of 1775 and the Copperheads of 1861, and fit only to vanish from the earth."

Believes of Loyalty of People.

Col. Roosevelt said he did not agree with those "prophets of gloom who have said that the west, prosperous and indifferent, secure in her fancied safety because she is in the middle of the continent, cares nothing of the dangers that might befall the cities on the Atlantic and Pacific coast, cares nothing for what has befallen the dwellers along the Mexican boundary."

"If I did," he declared, "I should despair of the republic. The west is to a peculiar degree the democratic, the intensely and characteristically American section of our land. The west produced for the service of the whole nation Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Jackson, and I know that their spirit is still the spirit of her sons. I appeal to the men of the west to take the lead in the movement for the genuine nationalization of our people."

Discussing industrial preparedness, Col. Roosevelt said he stood "heartily for protection." "By that I mean not only protection to American industries and to the material interests of American workmen, farmers and business men," he explained, "I also mean, and with even greater emphasis, protection for the whole American nation, protection for American honor, protection for America's self-respect, protection for America's position among the nations, protection for her when she strives, as she ought to strive, to bring peace to the rest of the world. And there can be no such protection without thorough-going preparation—military, social and industrial."

Legislation Prevents Efficiency.
Col. Roosevelt pointed to what he declared to be the nation's failure to prepare since the European war began, declaring that the house of representatives "has taken what measures it could to interfere with the organization on which we should have to rely in any belated and hurried efforts to meet our needs should we have to act in support of our note (the first American note to Germany), and has passed legislation excellently designed to prevent all efficiency from the military standpoint."

"If now there is no war," Col. Roosevelt continued, "it will be proof positive that if fourteen months ago we had made it evident that we meant what we said Germany would have abandoned her submarine policy and the lives of thousands of non-combatants would have been saved, so that their blood is at our doors because we failed, when we sent that note, to show that we meant what we said."

"If on the other hand war does come, it will be a cruel and a dreadful thing that, having had the amplest opportunity and time to prepare for it on the largest scale, we drifted into it sternforemost, having shown ourselves helplessly unable to provide in the smallest degree to make our vast strength effective."

Col. Roosevelt reiterated his previously-uttered opinions regarding a need for a larger army and navy and pointed to conditions in Europe and Mexico as illustrating the country's needs in this respect.

Discussing industrial preparedness, Col. Roosevelt declared that without it "there can be no full preparation for military service."

Industrial Preparedness Must Come.
"Unless our industries are highly efficient," he said, "and moreover are trained for this particular work in advance, the penalty will inevitably be paid."

PLANS BEING MADE FOR ANNUAL BOYS CAMP AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Association Decides to Have Camp June 1 to 10 at Elsinore Cottage, Lake Matanza—Physical Director Brewer to Be in Charge.

Plans are being made for the annual Boys Camp at the Y. M. C. A. these days. The plan is to hold the camp from June 1st to the 10th at the Elsinore cottage at Lake Matanza. The reason for the early date for the boys is that most of the boys are planning on working during the summer and at the same time they ought to have a vacation, so the Association decided to have the same as soon as school is out, giving the boys a vacation when they ought to have it and then after camp they will have a chance to work all summer if they choose.

Mr. H. A. Brewer, the Physical Director of the Y. will be in charge of the Camp and will be assisted by Louis Recker, the janitor of the Y. Recker is known as Reck by the boys and has the reputation of knowing just what the cook ought to have on the bill of fare every day, so he will be in charge of that department again this year. He will also have charge of the boats.

The program of events for this year's camp will surpass all other camps and plans are being made which if they materialize, will eclipse all other camps. A great many prizes are being offered. A nice steel fishing rod is being offered by Fred Darr of the Smith Hdw. Co. for the fellow catching the most fish on a pole and line. A good second prize will also be given. A bunch of awards will be given the fellows putting on the best stunts on Stunt night, and a cash prize will be given the one getting the nicest assortment of Photos.

Already fourteen fellows have definitely decided to go on the trip, the Cottage only takes care of Twenty-six and the full number will be signed up within a very few days.

QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.
April 30.

Verses 12-16. Can you give any description of this Mary, at whose home this historic prayer meeting was being held?

16. What explanation can you give of Rhoda not opening the gate to Peter for gladness?

17. How much real faith did these Christians have that their prayers for Peter would be answered when they thought the girl was "mad", that is beside herself, for saying Peter was at the gate?

18. What is the degree of probability that persons with spiritual bodies are all around us and we cannot see them? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

19. Verse 17. What effect would Peter's personal experience be likely to have upon this company, as to its credibility, and what effect ought it to have upon us?

20. Verses 18, 19. If Herod had been a spiritual man, or even fair minded, could he have found out how Peter had made his escape and not have put Paul's keepers to death?

Lesson for Sunday, May 7, 1916, The Missionaries of Antioch. Acts 11: 19-30; 12: 25-12.

THREE WORLD'S RECORDS ARE EQUALLED AT RELAY CARNIVAL

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—Three world's records were equalled and one collegiate record was shattered on Franklin field today in the annual relay race carnival of the University of Pennsylvania.

In winning the two mile college relay championship of America Yale equalled the record of seven minutes, 53 seconds, made by an Irish-American Athletic club team in 1910. Chicago finished second in this event.

Cornell equalled the record of 17 minutes, 51 1-5 seconds in winning the four mile college relay championship of America.

Simpson, the western champion from Missouri university, equalled the world's record of 15 seconds for the 120 yard hurdles. In this event Ames of Illinois was third.

The college record broken was for the discus, Mucks of Wisconsin, the American champion discus thrower, raising the figures from 140 feet, 2 3-8 inches to 145 feet, 11 1-2 inches.

The East End Independents will play the White Sox at the Branch school this afternoon. On Wednesday the Independents will play a game with the Jacksonville Railway & Light company on the Jacksonville State hospital grounds. The battery for the Independents is Murphy and Sullivan. Manager Sullivan says that they are unable to get games with teams their size hence they are tackling the Railway and Light team. He also issued a challenge to play the Jacksonville team the first time it has an open date.

SOME NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS

William H. Crane, the dean of the American stage, who is still amusing big audiences after 53 years on the stage, is 71 years old today. Mr. Crane as an actor has been likened to James Whitcomb Riley as a poet. Undoubtedly he is the most beloved actor in America, and he is about as well known and as well liked in England. Everybody in the theatrical world has anecdotes of "Billy" Crane. Mr. Crane was born at Leicester, Mass., April 29, 1845. He was raised in Boston, and from the school window he could see the stage entrance of old Hollis street Theatre. In his boyhood he was a mimic and his abilities brought him a chance in a small troupe that journeyed thru New England. He traveled with various companies until he fell in with Stuart Robinson. The two had a great success together. They separated in 1889, and since then Mr. Crane has been producing American plays. When David Harum was the rage, Mr. Crane starred for three years in the title role. Crane is humorous and wholesome, and has never stooped to low comedy to make his plays take. Mr. Crane retains much of his youthfulness and claims he is stronger and better than he was years ago.

Princess Juliana Wilhelmina, heiress to the throne of Holland, 7 years old today.

Col. Charles H. Crane, U. S. A., who retires today, 94 years old today.

Hon. Charles S. Fairchild, former Secretary of the Treasury, 74 years old today.

Hon. James P. Buchanan, Congressman from Texas, 49 years old today.

Mrs. Jennie Wiegand and daughter, Miss Ethel of Moline were visitors in the city Saturday on their way to Barnett for a visit with Mrs. Arch Davis.

UNTACTFUL ADAMS

The Pathetic Unpopularity of Our Second President.

HE WAS VAIN AND GLAD OF IT

Then, too, He Had an Obstinate Personality That Endowed Him With a Positive Genius For Putting Himself in the Worst Possible Light.

The choleric John Adams had been president for more than two years, but as long as Washington lived the country refused to look upon any one else as its real head.

The way of the transgressor may be hard indeed, but it is a path of roses compared with the thorny road the successor to a popular chief must tread, and when one reads the frankly expressed opinion of Adams' party friends and party enemies one's sympathies go out to the man upon whom Washington's presidential mantle fell.

"His supercilious highness" was the title the opposition had suggested for him in the days when discussion raged as to what the high officials of the government were to be called. He had great learning, great patriotism and an unquenchable spirit, but overlying and enveloping them all was a positive genius for doing and saying untactful things, for appearing at the worst possible advantage.

A member of his cabinet once said of him that whether he was "sportful, playful, witty, kind, cold, drunk, sober, angry, easy, stiff, jealous, careless, cautious, confident, close or open" he was "almost always so in the wrong place and with the wrong person."

The kindly Franklin characterized him as "always honest, sometimes great, but often mad." One less genial remarked that even in his soberest moments Adams was "the greatest marplot in nature." And John Randolph of Roanoke, whose tongue added the poison of ridicule to the bitterness of gall, called him "that political Malvolio."

Adams thought Washington's talents overrated and on becoming president in his turn was ambitious to make a record brilliant enough to overshadow him. It was certainly no easy task, even without the handicap of Adams' obstinate personality.

He knew that he was vain. "Thank God I am so," he exclaimed. "Vanity is the cordial drop which makes the bitter cup of life go down." But it had its lingering after taste, and justly proud of his record—having, as one of his biographers puts it, "stepped from his little country law office and proved himself a match for the diplomats of Europe"—Adams resented the narrow margin by which he had been elected, calling himself with some bitterness "the president of three votes only."

A vice president can be removed by nothing short of crime or physical incapacity, and Jefferson remained, an ever present and irritating thorn in Adams' side. Adams had found it hard to learn and accept the passive role demanded by the office, and he evidently took some satisfaction in impressing the same un congenial lessons upon his successor.

Jefferson asserted that he was never consulted upon any question of government after Adams had been two days in power. And he did not make the charge in the humorous mood of a later incumbent, who used to declare that his chief had asked his advice only once and that was about the wording of a Thanksgiving proclamation.

"I believe he always liked me," Adams admitted in a retrospect of his long career. "But he detested Hamilton and my whole administration. Then, he wished to be president of the United States, and I stood in his way. So he did everything that he could to pull me down. But if I should quarrel with him for that I might quarrel with every one I had anything to do with in life. . . . Did you ever hear the lines:

"I love my friend as well as you,
But why should he obstruct my view?
"I forgive my enemies and hope they may find mercy in heaven."—Our Nation in the Building—by Helen Nicolay, in Century Magazine.

Wesley's Father and Wesley.

One who is well known to fame who took snuff and loved his pipe was Samuel Wesley, rector of Epworth, Lincolnshire, from 1697 to 1753. He not only smoked his pipe, but sang his praises:

In these raw mornings, when I'm freezed
For pipe,
What can compare with a tobacco pipe?
Piped, smoked and touched, 'twould better
Heat a man
Than the Earth's fragors or Scotch warming pan.

Samuel's greater son, John Wesley, did not share the parental love of a pipe. He spoke of the use of tobacco as "an uncleanly and unwholesome self-indulgence" and described snuffing as a "filthy, nasty, dirty custom."—Westminster Gazette.

What the Well Revealed.

One of the first deep wells drilled in the west was put down near Huxley, Nev., by the Central Pacific railway in 1881, in a search for good water. The boring reached a depth of 2750 feet, but the water obtained was of very unsatisfactory quality. At 1700 feet the drill encountered a bed of "petrified clams," and the record states that at 1300 feet well preserved "redwood timber" was found.—Argonaut.

ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENCE.

LONDON, April.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The conferences of the Allies going on in Paris are looked upon in well informed quarters as likely to develop means for presenting a united front on many questions, outside the settlement of territory, when any real prospect for concluding the war comes in sight.

On their face these conferences are to discuss trade and commercial questions in which the Allies are mutually interested. But those who have had much to do in shaping the conferences say these questions really touch the matter of a war settlement and subsequent peace terms, and that the generals in the field may in the first instance have to incorporate them in any preliminary arrangement leading up to the more definite protocols and treaties of the civil authorities. It is with this view, to know where they stand, and to have some common end to be definitely presented from the very outset, that these conferences of the Allies are looked upon as considerably more than an academic discussion of trade problems.

The need of being thus prepared at the outset to present a joint front, even in the first negotiations on the field, has been made apparent by the experience of France in the conclusion of the Franco-German peace terms. The treaty of Frankfurt then made was preceded by preliminary conferences on the field, when the main lines of settlement were laid down. But all attention was absorbed at the time in the big questions—the cession of Alsace-Lorraine, the payment of an indemnity and the withdrawal of the German army from France. Other questions touching the future relations of the country in trade and otherwise were almost overlooked in the presence of the main questions. But the French have since learned that the Germans did not overlook these lesser questions. On the contrary they had a trade formula, which was accepted without question in the general confusion, this trade formula has bound France hand and foot ever since, up to the time the war smashed all treaties and agreements.

By the trade formula ingeniously presented at the time Germany was given the "most-favored nation" treatment for an indefinite period in the future in all commercial and tariff dealings with France. As a rule the "most-favored nation" treatment is granted by France for periods of ten years, so that her minimum tariff rates may be given to a country for reciprocal concessions granted. But by this little clause slipped into the treaty at that time, France found later she was bound for all time to give Germany the utmost tariff concession she allowed any other country. That is, if France, through the operation of her minimum scale of tariff duties, allowed the United States a minimum rate for any particular reason or thru reciprocity, Germany was able to claim exactly the same low rate, without reference to any concession she might make. This old clause, deftly worked into the peace settlement, was always after regarded by France as a serious embarrassment in her trade dealings with other countries, for every time she made a favorable arrangement with an outside country, Germany got the same thing.

There is no purpose that the Allies shall be taken unaware in the adjustment of the present war, as France was in the former war, and that is one of the main reasons the Allies are fully convulsing their trade interests at the Paris conferences. Out of it a pretty full understanding is expected of just what attitude the Allies will take on trade questions, from the very outset of peace preliminaries, even on the field if that be necessary to their incorporation in the final adjustment.

Washington, April.—Preliminary experiments are being conducted by the United States Bureau of Fisheries in the preparation of shark meat as a food. Fisheries experts say there is good ground for the belief that a demand for the article will be created. Even now, they say, sharks are more universally eaten than is generally known as trap fishermen off the Massachusetts coast ship all of the large species of shark, with one exception, caught in their traps. The head, fins and tail are removed and the shark then looks not unlike a deep water swordfish. They are shipped to Boston and New York and sold as deepwater swordfish, the fishermen receiving from three to eight cents a pound.

In the United States there is a prejudice against the use of sharks for food that results in waste of what rightfully should be a resource, fisheries experts declare. In England and Wales almost 6,500,000 pounds of dogfish, valued at more than $100,000 were landed in 1913. As the flesh of these small sharks, when properly prepared, is palatable, there appears to be no valid reason against its use, officials say.

Rome, April.—A new method of making bread recently adopted in Italy has proved a great success. It is found that 300 pounds of grain produces 400 pounds of what is termed "natural bread."

In the process the grain is sifted and washed; it is then left for 48 to 60 hours in a warm bath, where it germinates and begins to sprout. When the germinating process has gone far enough the grain is crushed in a machine and made into dough, which is passed into the oven.

The natural bread is grayish in color, with an agreeable odor, and has much higher nutritive properties than white bread, according to the Corriere Della Sera. Its eating qualities and digestibility are shown by the preference given it by Italians who have tried it.

Peking, March.—Mrs. Howard Gould is in Peking for the purpose of establishing a school for Chinese girls in which the Montessori method will be used. Mrs. Gould recently had an interview with the minister of education, and is cooperating with a number of missionaries in educational work. She will finance the new school, which will serve as a model for Chinese teachers.

Liverpool, April.—Several hundred women have just taken up the work of cleaning the streets in Liverpool. They are taking the places of men who have joined the army and are said by the oldest employees in the department to be as efficient as the men.

London, April.—Most Canadian soldiers who come to England on their way to or from the front may a visit to Westerham, Kent, 25 miles from London, to see "Quebec House" known as the early home of the illustrious General Wolfe, hero of Quebec.

This historic mansion, dating from the sixteenth century, came into the market three years ago. A patriotic citizen of Montreal, J. B. Leamont, hearing that the property was about to be bought up by a wealthy American and transferred bodily to a town in the Southern States, came forward and purchased it for $15,000. A few weeks later he wrote to the Canadian Governor-General, announcing his intention of presenting the house to the Canadian people, to be used as a museum of relics and records commemorative of both Wolfe and Montcalm, victor and vanquished in the great struggle which resulted in the addition of Canada to the British Empire, and begging the government's acceptance of the gift.

Considerable delay, however, occurred, and when at length the Government announced its formal acceptance, the donor, Mr. Leamont, had died. It was found that no mention was made of the property in his will, and consequently the property became included in his general estate. A legal difficulty arose, it being contended that the executors could not now dispose of the house as he had planned, inasmuch as it was now together with the rest of the estate, held in trust for the heirs. Mr. Leamont's widow, however, declared that she was ready to do all in her power to carry out her husband's wishes.

The matter has remained in abeyance ever since. The cost of maintenance, about $500 a year, has been met by the Leamont estate. The house is open to the public, but the work of restoring it to the shape in which it was when Wolfe lived in it has not been begun, and it contains hardly any of the souvenirs which its purchaser planned should add to its interest as a place of pilgrimage.

At the beginning of the war both Mrs. Leamont and the Canadian government authorized the use of the house for patriotic purposes, and for a time forty soldiers were quartered there. Since then it has been used as a War Hospital Supply Depot and workshop by a local committee of ladies.

Sir Robert Borden visited the house in 1915 and declared that he and his colleagues were only waiting for a perfect title in order to take charge of the historic mansion. But no steps have been taken to complete the transfer and it was announced this week that the Leamont trustees have recently received an excellent offer from a would-be American purchaser.

TANLAC ROMANCE NOW FULLY TOLD

Its Launching and What Inspired it Is At Last Explained.

"Every few years someone suggests something that will tend to better our condition, where it may pertain to our business, our knowledge, convenience, or health, or our social state," declared T. L. Cooper recently.

It has been my pleasure to offer Tanlac to the world," he continued. "I presented Tanlac on its merits, knowing full well that it would prove satisfactory if properly tested."

"Confident as I was of the reception Tanlac would receive, I confess I was hardly prepared for the wonderful popularity into which it at once sprang. When it is considered that just nine months to the day after Tanlac was announced, one million bottles had been sold, it can be understood that when the story of Tanlac is called a romance of the business world it is quite true."

"Tanlac appeals particularly to the best people everywhere—people who are able to judge carefully and to render a just opinion of its merits. Upon the thousands of endorsements of such men and women Tanlac's astonishing success has been based. Great as is the demand for Tanlac now, I really feel that the country, as a whole, is only just awakening to it."

"Tanlac, which is the joint product of Herr Joseph Von Trimbach, the noted German chemist and myself, I believe, the most effective remedy known for ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys and for neural affections of the mucous membranes."

"It is compounded of roots, herbs, barks and flowers, many of which come from remote parts of the world and it is free from the mineral taint feared by many persons."

"I have no doubt that Tanlac will be as successful in your city as it has in every other in which it has been introduced."

Tanlac may now be obtained in Jacksonville at the Coover & Shreve Drug stores, where it is fully recommended.—adv.

Tender Teeth—the first sign of Pyorrhea

When you brush your teeth, does it feel as though you were brushing against the quick? Do the gums sometimes bleed? This is because pyorrhea has caused the gums to pull away from your teeth, leaving the unenamelled surfaces unprotected.

Your dentist will tell you, if you ask him, that you have gum recession; and that gum recession is caused by pyorrhea.

Unchecked, pyorrhea will warp and shrink and deform the gums. It will break down the bony structure into which the teeth are set—and you will eventually lose them. To save your teeth you will have to begin to fight this dread disease at once.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address: The Senreco Remedies Company, 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, O.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

President Harker returned Tuesday night from an extended trip to New York, where he attended a meeting of the Board of Education, going from there to Chicago for a meeting of the Representatives of the Illinois Federation of Colleges. While in Chicago he was the guest of Loyla University. He left Saturday for Saratoga Springs, N. Y., to attend a meeting of the General Conference, one of the most important meetings in the Methodist church.

Thursday afternoon and evening President and Mrs. Harker entertained a limited number of friends in honor of their niece, Mrs. Edith Ayers McCullough. In the evening, Mrs. McCullough gave a delightful song recital in Music Hall.

On Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. Harker entertained the Seniors in Phi Nu Hall, this being the occasion of the annual dinner.

The gift of rare books made possible by the generosity of the late Julius E. Strawn will prove a most valuable addition to the rapidly growing library. As a prelude to the announcements which President Harker made at Chapel Saturday morning, he told of the manner in which the new books came to be given to the library, and then announced that an addition would be built to the library, giving a total capacity of about 20,000 volumes. This announcement was the cause of tumultuous applause. Then President Harker electrified the students by making the announcement about the new gymnasium. This building will be about 50 x 115 feet outside dimensions. The main floor will have a stage well equipped for the college dramatics, a balcony and in the basement will be a large swimming pool fully equipped. The swimming pool is the gift of another friend whose name cannot be announced at the present time.

It is worthy of note that the progress along material lines has been surpassed by the intensive development of the course of study and the equipment in each department. The college has recently been fortunate in being thoroly examined by the official examiners of two of the greatest universities in the Middle West. This examination was made of President Harker's solicitation in order that there might be no doubt as to the genuine worth of what the college is doing.

The Hay Day Pageant this year will be given at Commencement time on June 3. This is for the benefit of the former students and graduates, who will be here to enjoy the anniversary. It will be known as the Anniversary Pageant.

GOOD HOG PRICES). A. J. and A. O. Harris marketed in the east 500 hogs mainly of their own feeding. The animals weighed from 190 to 265 each and brought from $9.25 to $10.25. Some of the hogs the Messrs. Harris raised and some they bought and fed.

Naming a Town.

An interesting story is told as to the origin of the name "Moosejaw" as applied to a town in Canada. Some fifty years ago, so the story runs, a pioneer, with his team of oxen and "prairie schooner," passing along the banks of the river, was obliged to camp at this point in Saskatchewan on account of an accident to his cart.

A spoke had fallen out during the day, and the wheel was falling apart. He looked about for something to insert for a temporary brace for the wheel, while his wife busied herself with the evening meal.

The pioneer's child, while romping around, found the jawbone of a moose, which she held up to her father, who by this time almost despaired of finding anything with which to repair his cart. He was delighted to find that the jawbone exactly fitted the place of the missing spoke. The Indians thereafter named this district the "Place Where the White Man Found the Moosejaw." This, it is said, accounts for the town's queer name.—Washington Star.

Message of a Banknote.

Writing on a banknote once freed an English slave. The note came into the hands of a Liverpool merchant's cashier. He examined it, noticed some red marks on the back and by the layish use of time and ingenuity deciphered the message. It ran: "If this note should fall into the hands of John Dean of Longhill, near Carlisle, he will learn thereby that his brother is languishing in a prisoner in Algiers." John Dean was found, and he applied to the government and interested the prime minister, who stirred the foreign secretary into action. Inquiries were made, and the day, by golden arguments, was persuaded to release him. For eleven years he had been a galley slave, and he had written the message in blood with a splinter of wood. His release came in time to allow him to die at home.—London Telegraph.

Neighbors.

Occasionally a writer makes a big hit by a very simple device. He discovers his neighbors. Most of us live next door to people for years and visit with them on the front porch and once in awhile call on them. But we rarely get really acquainted.

And then a McCutcheon comes along, or a Webster, or a Briggs, or a George Ade, or a Fatty Lewis and finds out that a neighbor is a human being. It is revealed that he gets peevish when the buttons aren't sewed on, and that his children have the croup, and that the baby keeps the family awake all night, and that in general he is a romantic character.

It is possible that your own neighbors might be as interesting as those of the gentlemen just mentioned if you would take the pains to know them.—Kansas City Star.

Scolds Gagged With Iron.

In the seventeenth century erring inhabitants of Newcastle used to undergo far more trying ordeals than that of the drunkard's cloak.

Ralph Gardner in a work entitled "England's Grievance In Relation to the Coal Trade," published 1655, records having seen "in Newcastle six months ago one Ann Bridlestone drove through the streets by an officer of the same corporation holding a rope in his hand, the other end fastened to an engine called the branks, which is like a crown, it being of iron, which was muzzled over the head and face, with a great gag of iron forced into her mouth, which forced the blood out, and that is the punishment which the magistrates do inflict upon chiding and scolding women."—London Express.

Everybody's Opportunity.

How many people we meet who are living narrow lives, complaining of their lack of opportunity!

Take the woman who feels helpless because she does not know how to think—she has had no chance to study or to meet people of great interests and great purposes. Yet there are libraries—city libraries, country libraries, loan and traveling libraries, with all the wealth of the world's thought and experience, all hers for the taking. She may not know how to think great thoughts herself—comparatively few people do—but through a book she may live with some master mind until his thoughts become a part of her very life. It is not the mere reading of many chapters that starts the life growing.—Youth's Companion.

Epsom Salts as a Dimmer.

Five cents' worth of Epsom salts dissolved in a teacupful of water provides the neatest and most efficient "headlight dimmer" for automobiles so far proposed, according to the Scientific American. The solution is used on the inside of the headlight glass, where it is allowed to evaporate. The result is a beautifully frosted lens, the frosting on which lasts for several months.

A Warning.

"You had better be careful, Miss Flirty, or you will find yourself up against the law."

"Oh, what do you mean?"

"Why, you have such a killing way of shooting glances at a fellow."—Baltimore American.

Practical Appraisement.

"Ma, James asked me last night to share his lot."

"Did he say whether it was one in a good building section?"—Baltimore American.

Abrupt.

"Could you lend me a dollar, old man?"

"Certainly! I could do lots of things I have no intention of doing. Nice day, isn't it?"—Judge.

Power!!

Few of us have the need or desire for a racing car.

We are quite content to let the "other fellow" take his chances at 70 miles an hour—while we spin along comfortably and safely with the speedometer needle registering 25 or 30.

But every man wants Power in his automobile—and particularly the man who tours.

It is good to sit behind a motor which responds eagerly—bouyantly—to the slightest touch of the throttle.

It is good to know that you need only "step on" the accelerator—and the steepest hills will flatten out like smooth boulevards.

It is good to realize that you command a vast store of reserve power which will easily take you through the heaviest sand roads "on high."

It is good to know that your automobile is a staunch, sturdy, dependable help-mate—not a treacherous weakling that will lay down when the real work begins.

In a word, it is good to own just such a car as the Paige seven passenger "Six-46".

THE WORK IN PEORIA COUNTY

(E. T. Robbins, Agent)

Farm Visits by Townships

Last week I made about 35 farm visits. Many of these were to farms of members who had never had me on their farm before. The plan is to visit each member of the Farm Bureau during the year which ends June 1st next. Quite a number never have sent for me to come to their places and I am hunting up all of these. By working in these visits along with the emergency calls that are sent in we expect to have the Farm Bureau work all up to date in fine shape by June 1st. By that time, if not before we will get started on a schedule of farm visits by townships. These will be arranged thru local representatives and a day at a time will be spent in each locality. Experience where this has been tried in the work here this spring shows that sometimes twice as much can be done in a day that way and it is always possible to do much more than where farm visits are scheduled.

Co-operative Horse Shipment

For the past year the Farm Bureau has been working out a system for handling the horse business on a co-operative basis. A few months ago when this system was nearly completed, I took up the matter of co-operative shipments to the large horse markets. When this plan was presented to some of the prominent operators on these markets they were greatly pleased with it and gave us every assurance that it could be worked out successfully on the plan we had started. This suggestion seems to have set them thinking considerably along this line and some of them mentioned the matter to the editor of the Breeders Gazette in Chicago. Since then he has presented many good arguments for co-operative shipping of geldings and the matter has been discussed in all parts of the country. In the meantime the local retail demand for horses has been so good that we have never been able to get enough suitable horses together at one time to start this business off as we had expected. We have had on hand for a month a standing order for a carload of draft geldings to go into immediate use, but there are not enough suitable animals in sight to fill the bill. The available mares are also getting scarce. The buyer who came here from Wisconsin last week to get four grade Percheron mares to ship into the northern part of that state found a very small list to pick from.

Undoubtedly the good retail business in horses is desirable in every way. But if that fails to furnish sufficient outlet at good prices the system of co-operative shipments of horses to the principal markets can be put in operation now at any time. The Farm Bureau committee that has been working on this plan feels that is on a basis now where it will work permanently to the satisfaction of all concerned. It should put the horse selling business on as good a basis as that secured by the Farmers Elevator companies for marketing grain.

SEED AORN TESTS SHOW

DANGER
Roy C. Bishop, farm adviser of Livingston county, had the opinion, based on reports received, that a great deal of seed corn in that county was not fit for planting. He therefore obtained samples from twenty-two different persons in order to get a general idea of conditions. The tests were made to show the per cent of germination, the per cent of dead kernels and the per cent of weak kernels. The tests showed the average germination 77.4, dead 22.6, weak 10 per cent. This average germination was quite low and not over thirteen samples out of the twenty-two were really fit for seed. The white corn samples in every case gave a higher germination test than the yellow corn, thus proving again the quite well known fact that white corn is much stronger than the yellow corn. Dead and weak kernels are largely found near the tip of the ear this year. Mr. Bishop advises care in shelling off only mature kernels and explains that corn fills from the butt of the ear, so the tip kernels are most likely at all times to be the least vital. He recommends the rag doll method as an efficient and cheap means for testing seed corn.

CORN STALKS AND THE CORN ROOT LOUSE

(C. H. Oathout Farm Advisor Champaign County.)

Dear Friend:—
More cornstalks are being burned this year than for several years. Of course last year was a good one for a heavy growth of stalks, and many seem to think it impossible to get them well plowed under. This is a sad mistake. If you will double disc your stalks going around the lands in just the way you plow the ground, you will have no trouble. A stalk cutter will help also. If you do not break the stalks in this way you are bound to have trouble.

If your ground were covered with a coat of manure at the rate of three tons per acre, would you rake it up and burn it? You are doing just as sensible a thing when you rake and burn cornstalks. Keeping up the supply of organic matter and nitrogen in the soil is the thing that gives us the most trouble and you lose both when you destroy cornstalks. A large part of the loss suffered by dry weather is due to the fact that our soil has for fifty years been losing its organic matter and we as farmers have been doing nothing to prevent the loss, in fact many have been doing all in their power to increase it by burning cornstalks. Make up your mind to get them under. It will pay.

Corn Root Louse

This is a small pale-green insect which feeds on the roots of corn and some other plants. In some cases where the soil is strong and the insects not very numerous the damage is not great, but in other cases where there are many insects the damage is very appreciable, in some cases enough to destroy the corn. If the corn in a certain part of the field is yellow and not growing well, look for these insects. Their presence will be indicated by numerous ant's nests. The ants care for the corn root louse which are entirely helpless themselves.

A good rotation of crops with provision for proper soil enrichment is the best general preventative of insect injuries. However, the corn root louse will live in the soil through several changes of crops or those which have wings may fly from other infested fields so other preventative measures should be taken.

Plowing six to seven inches deep followed by several deep diskings will break up the nests and cause the destruction of many of these insects. Incidentally this is also the best way of getting a good seed bed for corn and will pay well, leaving the insects out of consideration entirely.

There are a number of things such as oil of lemon, carbolic acid, etc., which are used as repellants and applied in weak solution directly to the seed. But these are effective only when weather conditions are right, and may under certain conditions injure the stand of corn. So their use is not recommended in this way. They may be mixed with meal or some other powdered substance, and dropped in the hill with a fertilizer attachment to a planter if you own one. Used in this way there is no danger of injury to the seed.

A CHANGE OF TACTICS.

How It Worked In the Case of a Discouraged Salesman.

The following method of gaining assurance is told in the American Magazine. It is the experience of a salesman who could not sell his goods because he allowed himself to be discouraged at initial attempts. It has wide application everywhere:

"I am a commercial traveler who conquered the habit of despondency. Every one who sells goods knows how fierce is the competition. When I took this job six years ago it seemed absolutely overwhelming. I didn't sell anything to speak of and made up my mind that I couldn't, though I kept on making the round of the groceries. There seemed to be a thousand salesmen just ahead of me. I grew very bitter at the thousand and everybody else. Whenever I entered a store it was with the firm conviction that I should not get an order. I looked dull eyed at the merchant and said gloomily:

"'Anything in my line?' at the same time reaching for the doorknob. They didn't try to detain me.

"One day in conversation with an old drummer, a shrewd veteran of the road, I opened my heart with a savage complaint about the thousand salesmen, my advance guard. He puffed his cigar a moment, his eyes twinkled and he slapped me on the shoulder.

"I know," he said. "I had 'em ahead of me once. They raised Cain with me until I chased 'em to the rear. Take my advice, boy, and get up to the head of the procession and let the other fellows do the worrying."

"I thought it over, and it dawned on me that it was a question of viewpoint. I had formed a habit of picturing myself at the tail of the line, though in reality we were going in a circle and my position was as good as any. Then I changed my tactics and formed a new habit—the habit of thinking of myself as the leader, the very first man in the territory. Just as an experiment I went out the next day believing that I should get orders. I pulled my order book and pencil the moment I entered a store and began to name certain goods.

"Sugar!" I cried, looking the grocer expectantly in the eye, as much as to say that I could see the empty barrel behind his counter. And the barrel was empty! It worked so well in the first store that I tried more vigorously in the next, and the merchant came down freely. It was almost uncanny the way I guessed the items he needed. I went out on the sidewalk and laughed aloud. And I actually sold more goods that day than I had sold before in three weeks.

"Well, the firm raised my salary instead of firing me, as they had planned to do, and I still insist that I am the first man over the route—I tell you, right habits of thought are worth money—sometimes a fortune."

Spirit of the Home.

I never realized before how rare indeed is the real home—the temple reared to house a family life, with its altar dedicated to parenthood. I saw that it is not enough to have furniture "good," to have colors "safe," not enough to show a pretty, well appointed house to the world. A real home must be a setting for a living, loving, sorrowing and conquering man and woman. It is not enough to study textures, plans and building materials. It is just the old story of the letter and the spirit. The creative spirit can make any home beautiful, but the most letter perfect house is a dead shell unless it houses loving, growing life.—Emily Newell Blair in Country Life Magazine.

The Footmen's Gallery.

There was in one part of the theater where in bygone days smoking was permitted the footmen's gallery, where servants in attendance on masters visiting the theater were admitted free. But the occupants of the footmen's gallery were so noisy and they so frequently blotted out of existence plays that their masters approved of that the privilege was withdrawn, and the gallery became the "shilling gallery," which has kept up to a great extent the traditional privilege of outspoken criticism originally exercised by footmen.—London Chronicle.

Rich as Croesus.

The boys were bragging about their parents. "I bet my father is richer than your father," said one. "He has to pay lots and lots of money for taxes every year."

"That's nothing," retorted the other. "My father is so rich that he can afford to hire a lawyer to fix things so he don't have to pay any taxes."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Suspicious Document.

"All this here business education among women is tough on us cooks."

"How so?"
"The last lady I worked for gimme a reference written in shorthand. What did she say about me, I wonder?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cutting Stovepipe.

Use a can opener to cut stovepipe if you have no large pair of shears. The can opener answers the purpose admirably.—Popular Science Monthly.

Inevitable.

"I saw stars in that railroad collision."

"Naturally, when the cars were telescoped."—Baltimore American.

Without courage there cannot be truth, and without truth there can be no virtue.

ACTIVITY OF MERCANTILE MARINES DWARFS TRADING

Preferred Shares Make an Extreme Gain of 6 Points—Balance of List Becomes Active in Final Hour.

New York, April 29.—Trading during today's short session was almost completely dwarfed by the further feverish activity of mercantile marines at advancing prices. The preferred shares made an extreme gain of 6 points to the new record of 91, and the common rose a point to 25, or 4 under its maximum quotation, made early in the week. Combined dealings in these issues amounted to 110,000 shares, or over 25 per cent of the total operations. Demand for marines was so insistent as to convey the impression of a contest for control, despite recent unofficial statements to the effect that new and important interests already are dominant.

The balance of the list was irregular and hesitant at the outset but became more active in the final hour, under lead of such mixed specialties as distillers' securities, United States Industrial Alcohol, the motors, petroleum and American Locomotive. In these and similar issues, extreme gains of 3 to almost 6 points were scored and largely retained.

Rails and other standard stocks were a disappointment to those who looked for a continuance of their recent strength. Shares of this class were dull and pressure was effective throughout, with moderate losses. United States Steel followed the course of the rails, rising only the smallest fraction and closing virtually unchanged.

Total sales of stocks amounted to 410,000 shares. There were further favorable railway returns for March, Reading reporting a surplus increase of over $900,000 and Canadian Pacific a net gain of $148,000. Trade reports again referred optimistically to country wide activity in wholesale jobbing lines.

SNOW AND RAIN IN NORTHWEST
CAUSE HIGHER WHEAT PRICES

Prices Close Unsettled With Gains of 1/2 to 1 1/2 Cents—Other Leading Staples Show an Advance.

Chicago, April 29.—High prices in the wheat market resulted today from snow and rain in the northwest where already the spring crop acreage had been diminished to a notable extent by previous adverse conditions. Prices closed unsettled but with gains of 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents for May; 1 1/2 cents for July. Other leading staples all showed an advance—corn 3/4 to 1/2 cent; oats 3/4 to 1/2 cent and provisions 10 to 20c.

Good support on the break rallied the wheat market in the final dealings. It was said houses with foreign connections were the leaders in the purchasing movement at the close. Estimated that 1,500,000 bushels or more would be delivered here Monday on May contracts were received in general with no surprise. Corn rose with wheat. Predictions of heavy deliveries Monday, perhaps 2,000,000 bushels, seemed to have no more effect on corn than on wheat. Oats were helped upward by assertions that consumption had been larger than expected and that the crop was late. The forecasts pointed to delivery of 1,000,000 bushels on May contracts Monday. Higher prices on hogs and grain made provisions firm. Soap interests were said to have been free buyers of lard.

JERSEY CHARITY WORKERS DISCUSS MENTAL DEFICIENCY.

Hoboken, N. J., April 29:—"Mental Deficiency in its Relation to Social Problems" is the principal subject for discussion at the annual meeting of the State Conference of charities and correction, which begins here tomorrow. It is pointed out that there are in New Jersey institutions 850 individuals mentally deficient, exclusive of the insane and epileptic. That there are 5,000 more, at least, who should have care, many of them being children, is the view of the leading charity workers. The conference will extend until Tuesday, and the speakers are famous authorities of the East.

Arrivals in the city yesterday from Franklin were Lafayette Clayton, Abe Calhoun, Fred Burch, Jos. G. Dowell, Wm. Calhoun, William Douglas, Henry Shack and Douglas Roberts.

ably be paid on the shape of dreadful loss of life among our soldiers. Such a need cannot be met by government-owned and managed plants, although there should be some such to serve as checks and regulators. The need is to train, to educate many business firms by means of giving them orders in time of peace for the various things which the government would need in enormous quantities in time of war. There should be a survey of the producing resources of the country and the development and practical working out in time of peace plans for minimum annual educational orders to be placed by the army and navy with thousands of firms widely distributed geographically, and the enrolment in time of peace of the skilled labor which it is necessary to keep on the job in time of war. We shall need organized business in time of war just as in time of peace. Our duty is to encourage it, but also to see that its activities are for the benefit of the whole country. The government should provide against excessive profit making in time of war; and it can only do this as a sequence to reasonable encouragement of the many private plants which in the event of war could be trusted to do public business. These plants, through some such system as the annual educational orders above referred to, could be made ready for efficient munitions work in time of war. The government encouragement could be also used to secure as one of its features those things for labor which it is most necessary to secure; proper working and living conditions and provisions for insurance compensation against sickness, accident and old age.

Congress Has Not Helped.

"Not one step has been taken by congress to help secure these industrial conditions. Not one step has been taken to secure the nationalization of industry in time of war. The railroad business in particular, insofar as interstate commerce and everything directly or indirectly connected with it is concerned, should be made a national matter, with a national incorporation law, and the whole power of regulation (which should itself be part of a process of encouragement) lodged in the federal commission, the purpose being to encourage the business in every legitimate way, while also seeing that it is managed in the interest of the public, no less of the investors, managers and wage-workers. We can have no national economic program until we make ourselves really a nation. National needs cannot be met by conflicting local actions. This is the age of co-operation. Surely if we really are a business people this means that there should be co-operation and not hostility between the government and the mighty agencies thru which alone modern business, especially international business, can be managed. Let the government regulate the corporations; but let this regulation be an incident of hearty co-operation with them, to secure their well-being and also the well-being of those who work for them and of those for whom they work. Capital must be organized on a large scale just as labor must be organized on a large scale; but, both forms of organization must justify themselves by showing that they are not only beneficial to themselves but to the people as a whole.

"No form of government will survive unless it can justify its existence. Boasting about democracy won't make democracy succeed. We are the greatest democratic republic and we are false not only to our own country but to democracy everywhere if we do not seriously endeavor to show, by our actions and success, that with us the many men can make a nation as efficient as elsewhere nations have been made efficient by a few men.

"We cannot afford to leave this democracy of ours inefficient. If we do it will assuredly some day go down in ruin. We cannot afford to tolerate with cynical indifference the pork-barrel theories of government so dear to the hearts of politicians of the baser sort. With a wealth of billions of dollars, and a population of one hundred million, we cannot afford to be in a condition of utterly unstable social and industrial equilibrium, nor to see our sons grow up steeped in a spirit of mere selfish individualism, without self-control or discipline or sense of co-operation, or firmness of purpose. We have great individual capacity. This we must keep. But we must train it so that we shall have great collective capacity, so that there may be that collective democratic power and discipline without which no great modern democracy can permanently subsist."

MUST ELIMINATE IRREGULAR CONDITIONS OF LUMBER

R. E. Simmons Tells of Conditions of Lumber Markets of South America.

Chicago, April 29.—The lumber dealers and manufacturers of the United States are to improve their business in South America they must eliminate irregular conditions as to the quality and measurements of the goods now shipped to that country, according to R. E. Simmons, who for two years has made a survey of the lumber market in South America for the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

"The buyers in South America complain of the quality and grade of material sent them and of short measurements, and their complaints are not unfounded," said Mr. Simmons, who is visiting the lumber associations to tell them of the conditions.

"Our trade with South America has amounted to nearly one billion feet of lumber a year. Just now it is difficult to get lumber there because of the lack of ships, but if we are to continue to meet the competition of Austria, Sweden, Japan and Australia when ships can be obtained we must remedy conditions.

"South America has to get her soft lumber from some one, for all her forests consist of hard woods, and the United States might as well have the market as any one."
